

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Kinau arrived this morning from windward ports.

There was a full house at the Orpheum last night and a large attendance at the band concert at the Hotel.

The Hongkong Maru will probably arrive to night from San Francisco, bringing interesting news from the seat of war.

Don't fail to ring up Telephone 444, American Messenger Service, if you have any messages or packages to deliver.

A letter found among the belongings of Frank Peroutka, the man who committed suicide at the Villa, shows that he was of unsound mind owing to domestic troubles.

There will be no Makee Island concert of the band on Sunday afternoon, as Minister Mott-Smith has kindly tendered its services at the funeral of the late Colonel Robert Hoapili Baker.

An important notice in regard to the burial of the dead from the Board of Health appears in this issue. Owners of lots of the present cemeteries should take special notice of the new regulations.

Congratulations are in order to Contractor William Mutch, the happy father of seven daughters. Mutch feels happy, when he thinks of the milliners' and dressmakers' bills to come in the sweet mahope.

"Rex" Hitchcock is acting as Hawaiian interpreter in Mr. Dole's Court of Claims. Even if the Council of State strikes out the fees for the commissioners, it will probably leave the salary of the interpreters alone and "R-x" will be in a V per day.

The body of Frank Peroutka, the Villa suicide, has not been cremated, as exclusively stated by the Bulletin, but is buried at Makiki cemetery, which was removed for burial late Wednesday afternoon on complaint from those in the near vicinity of the morgue.

Warren Bogle, the proprietor of the Elite Barber Shop, now removed to the Occidental Hotel, was married yesterday, as will be seen by a marriage announcement in this issue. The patrons of the shop presented him and his spouse with a new and complete set of bedroom furniture. A very good beginning.

The case of C. Downing, charged with murder in the second degree, was closed in the District Court this morning. No evidence or argument was offered by the attorneys for the defendant, and Downing was committed for trial to the next term of the Circuit Court. Straus and Creighton appeared for the defendant, and the Attorney-General for the Government. Two other cases against Downing were set for Monday next.

In writing the obituary of the late Robert Hoapili Baker, the Advertiser makes two errors. The late Colonel was not the model for the statue of Kamehameha I. It was the manly form of his cousin John T. Baker, who inspired the sculptor. Robert Hoapili was not a Lahaina scholar but received his education at St. Alban's College, in Honolulu, and at Lasehu, in Lahaina, under Archdeacon Mason of the Anglican Mission. He was a fellow school mate of Majors Nowlein and Laukea.

The Council of State.

At the meeting of the Council of State yesterday the following resolution was introduced, carried and made the order of the day for the meeting this afternoon:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Council of State that the Executive orders of the President, published in regard to the Court of Claims are unfair and unjust, and must be changed.

W.C. Acm, Councilor of State.

Honolulu, April 5, 1900.

It is safe to say that the resolution will be endorsed by the Council as well as the community at large.

So we are to have a Hawaiian Parkhurst, or rather an imitator of the New York preacher of that name. Is it to be a case of the play of Hamlet with the principal character omitted?

The white residents of Hawaii are not altogether uninitiated in the political methods of piece clubs of the United States. It will be found on the day of voting that men with long formed opinions will be present at the poll, and the would-be bosses will be left to seek solace in saloons in iced cool drinks, or to sweat in sultry weather at Waikiki.

It seems unkind on the part of those who receive letters from Gorman D. Gilman to have them published. The communications of the despicable hypocrite, the former lick-spittle around our allies should be consigned to the waste basket. It is probable that the man who received the letter considered the Advertiser worse than a waste basket and hence caused a publication of it in Thurston's organ.

Is it not about time to declare San Francisco an infected port and place into quarantine all vessels from that port arriving at Hilo, Kahului, Waimea and Honolulu? Is it fair to the business men of this city that ports of entry on the other islands should give vessels from San Francisco free entry, when coasting vessels from this port are denied that privilege at outside ports? By last advices San Francisco had more plague cases than this city has had for a month.

A new question for discussion has been precipitated in Chicago with reference to public school polity. There has been submitted to the Board of Education for its action a resolution looking to the separation of the sexes after the fourth grade has been passed. The trustee who is in management of the movement says that "the inherited traits and home training of many of the boys in our cosmopolitan schools are not such as to make them desirable companions for girls. The language you may hear on any of our streets from boys bears this out."

The above might apply to Honolulu, but does it? We leave the matter to conscience without bleeding scandals.
